

New Gallery

Andrew Murray, the Cape Town painter with the distinctively primitive touch, has just opened the city's newest gallery, the Dorp Street Studio (the illustration here is taken from Murray's own painting of the setting). The gallery is devoted entirely to paintings of Cape Town and the Cape Town scene and is itself in the heart of the old city, close to the Malay Quarter. This is what Murray says about the gallery's aims: 'The Dorp Street Studio encourages artists who still make the familiar sights of changing Cape Town the basis for good paintings.'
